THE RUSSO-PRUSSIAN TREATY.

LONDON, September 12.—The following are the principal conditions of the treaty made between Russia and Prussia at Versailles, early this year. Should war involve Austria, by intervention or otherwise, Russia was to act with Germany, furnishing a specified amount of troops and ships. The powers were to make peace only on the following terms: Austria was to renounce in favor of Germany all Bohemia, Moravia, Silesia, and the Duchy of Salzburg. Austria was to renounce in favor of Russia the provinces of Gallicia and Dalmatia. When these changes became accomplished facts, Russia was to cede to Germany five towns and harbors on the Baltic Sea, a part of Courland. Prussia was to regard the treaty of Paris null, and to pledge herself to armed participation in conquests in the East, with a force equal to Russia, and to a subsequent partition of the conquered territory. Russia was fooled, as was France in 1866.

Maine and California.

FURTHER RETURNS.

Large Republican Gains.

AUGUSTA, September 12.—Indications derived from a careful footing up of the returns received up till noon to-day, are that Governor Perham's majority will be nearly eleven thousand. The exact official majority of Governor Perham last year was 8,238. The net Republican gain therefore is nearly 3,000 over last year.

LEWISTON, ME., September 12.—Androscoggin county complete gives 1,400 Republican majority, against a little over 400 last year. The two Republican Senators and nine Representatives in the Legislature are all elected. The Republicans here fired a salute in honor of their victory.

CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 12.—The estimated Republican majority of the State is 5,400. The first district (Houghton) elected a Congressman by 2,874 majority. Coughlin and Sargent, in the second and third district, were elected by a large majority, and the returns are not complete. The Republicans elected fifteen State Senators, and have three hold-overs, excluding Pache county. They elected the Lieutenant Governor, whose district gave a Republican majority, in which a special election will be held. The Democrats have fourteen hold-overs, and elected sixteen. There is one independent (Tompkins) of Alemada. Each was elected with the Lieutenant's casting vote. The Republicans have one majority in the Senate. The Assembly stands fifty-one Republicans, twenty-two Democrats and one independent. The election of the Republican United States Senator is certain. The San Francisco vote is being recounted, but it is certain that the ring has been broken. The board stands five taxpayers, two independents acting with the tax payers, four Democrats and one independent Republican acting with them. The taxpayers have one majority.

AMERICAN PHARMACEUTICAL ASSOCIATION.

The nineteenth annual meeting of the American Pharmaceutical Association commenced at Polytechnic Hall this afternoon. In the absence of President Staples and the other presiding officers, Professor Ferris Moore, of Baltimore, was elected temporary Chairman. H. B. Brady, the representative of the British Pharmaceutical Society of Newcastle-on-Tyne, was introduced and invited to a seat on the platform, and acknowledged the courtesy in a few remarks. The Committee on Credentials reported delegates from the following Colleges and Associations: Louisville College of Pharmacy, University of Kentucky, Ontario College of Pharmacy, Chicago College of Pharmacy, Massachusets College of Pharmacy and its alumni, New York College and its alumni, Philadelphia College and its alumni, Maryland College and its alumni, New Jersey Pharmaceutical Association, Newark Pharmaceutical Association, Columbia Association of Pharmacy of Washington, St. Louis College of Pharmacy, and Kansas College of Pharmacy. In addition to the delegates from these institutions, there were a large number of members of the association present. Considerable discussion was had on the question whether the delegate from the University of Michigan should be admitted, it being claimed that the graduates of the Pharmaceutical department of that institution were only theoretical pharmaceutists. The matter was finally referred to a committee. The reports of the committees appointed at the last meeting were then called for and filed. They will be received during the sessions of the convention A committee of one from each college and association represented, and five from the convention at large was then appointed to nominate officers for the ensuing year. Eighty-eight new members were presented and elected. The report of the executive committee gave a good account of the condition of the association. Twelve members died during the year, and several resigned. The addresses of the retiring President, Staples, was read. He regretted his inability to be present and referred to the growth and increasing importance of the Association, and offered many good suggestions and some pertinent remarks in regard to the adulteration of drugs, and that more knowledge of pharmacy was necessary for druggists. The address was referred to a committee to report on the suggestions it contained. Adjourned till to-morrow.

The display of drugs, druggists' sundries and surgical instruments was unusually fine, and will be open to the public for inspection.

A re-union took place to-night at the Southern Hotel parlors, for the purpose of developing a closer aquaintance among the members. Many ladies belonging to the families of members were present.

WASHINGTON, September 12, 1871.

NEW BONDS PRINTED.

The printing of two hundred million new bonds has been completed. All have been delivered excepting a small portion which wants the signature of the Register of the Treasury.

THE WEATHER.

The barometer remains as on Monday afternoon, highest from North Carolina to Maine, and also over Lake Michigan, with a light depression from Lake Ontario to Missouri. The low barometer on the Gulf has moved westward, but the atmosphere pressure is quite uniformly distributed north of the Gulf States. Rain and clouds have been reported from the Gulf coast and northwards to South Carolina and Iowa. Cloudy weather with little or no rain has prevailed from North Carolina to New York. Smoke and haze continue from the Ohio valley to Iowa. Clear and partially cloudy weather is reported from Lake Superior to Lake Ontario. The temperature has very generally risen. Light and fresh easterly winds continue on the Atlantic coast. Brisk winds have been reported from Texas, with indications of a storm in the neighborhood of that coast.

Probabilities.—The barometer will probably continue low and falling south of the Missouri with easterly winds, and cloudy weather eastward to the Atlantic. The pressure will probably fall slightly in the Middle and Eastern States and over the lakes, with partially cloudy and pleasant weather with light winds. No serious disturbance is apprehended for these regions on Wednesday

OLD VISITORS.

This morning a number of citizens of Baltimore visited this city in celebration of the defense of Washington, in which they took part in 1814. They were met by their old comrades in-arms. Gen. St. John B. L. Skinner, of New York, welcomed them in a brief address. Altogether there were nearly one hundred of the veterans, some of them scarcely able to walk from old age. They visited the Executive Mansion, but there was no one present to formally receive them. After passing through the Treasury Department, and subsequently spending a short time at the Capitol, they sat down to dinner. The reunion was very pleasant.

BALTIMORE.

Republican State Convention.

BALTIMORE, September 12.—The Republican State Convention for the nomination of candidates for Governor and other State officers met here to day. All the counties except Talbot were represented. Among the delegates are about twenty colored men. Judge Weisel was chosen Chairman, and C. C. Fulton, of the American, and others, Vice Presidents. Hon. Jacob Tome, of Cecil, was by acclamation unanimously nominated for Governor. Hon. Alexander Randall, of Annapolis, was nominated for Attorney General, and Lawrence Brengle, of Frederick, for State Comptroller.

The resolutions from the committee were then read and unanimously adopted. They sustain the administration, commending its faithful execution of the laws; general honesty and efficiency in the public service; a rapid decrease of the debt and taxation, and recommend the renomination of President Grant. Resolutions denouncing the principles of the positions and practices of the Democratic party and favoring civil service reform were adopted, while one favoring the annexation of San Domingo was laid on the table—58 to 46—after an exciting debate. Postmaster General Cresswell was present and made an address, sustaining the administration of Grant, and the convention adopted a resolution commending his management of the affairs of the Post Office Department.

The following is a resolution on Tammany:

NEW YORK, September 12, 1871.

THE RECENT ROBBERY.

The theft discovered to have been in the Controller's office yesterday was an exciting topic of conversation throughout the city all last evening. There were various opinions in regard to who stole the vouchers, and what they were stolen for. Some think the affair was one of the tricks of the ring for the purpose of forcing the Controller to resign, and this theory seemed to have acquired plausibility, when, very late last night, it was announced that Mayor Hall had addressed to the Controller a communication setting forth that he, as Mayor, was constrained to conclude that the exigency demanded his retirement from the head of the finance department, in order that some other person might be placed there by the Mayor, who will be able to investigate the affairs of the Controller's office and restore public confidence. The Mayor adds in his letter that as he cannot suspend any head of department pending an investigation, and as the charges could only be preferred to the Common Pleas Court, who alone can remove, after considerable time and trial, he is compelled to throw himself upon the magnanimity of the Controller in the request made.

In Wall street, during the afternoon, a decline was produced in the securities in which the ringleaders were especially interested. The city stocks also fell off appreciably in the market. A feeling of distrust prevailed on the street all day. Controller Connolly was greatly dispirited, as he had been diligently engaged last week in the preparation of the accounts which the missing vouchers would explain. Many of the Controller's friends claimed that the vouchers had been abstracted by some enemy of the Controller's merely for the purpose of creating the erroneous impression that he was privy to their abstraction. It is asserted that for some time past Hall has been anxious to have the place of Connolly filled by some other person, and that a breach had occurred between the members of the ring, which placed Hall and Sweeny in a coalition as against Tweed and Connolly, and that the attack made upon the latter two gentlemen in certain Democratic newspapers, and the request for their resignation, were inspired by the former, who in the same newspaper article were subjects of commendation rather than attack, and it was believed that if Connolly had made way for some one else, some of the gentlemen whose malversations as to documents in the Controller's office would reveal, could thus be screened.

The World says if the Controller disregards the demands of the Mayor he will find before night that a scorching, resistless public indignation will make the city too hot to hold him. It adds that it may be his misfortune, not his fault, that this alleged robbery of his department occurred at this critical juncture, and it hopes that the Mayor will be afforded an opportunity to appoint his successor.

A dispatch from Washington says that Mrs. R. B. Connolly, on the 19th of last month, transferred to her son-in law $500,000 in United States bonds.

CONNOLLY'S ANSWER TO MAYOR HALL.

The following is Connolly's answer to Hall's letter asking his resignation:

Comptroller's Office, New York, September 12.—Hon. A. Oakey Hall, Mayor—Dear Sir: Your letter of September 11th, asking my resignation as Comptroller, was presented to me last night at 11 o'clock, at an interview sought by yourself. Similar verbal requests from yourself and others have been, within the last few weeks, received and delivered. The official source and subject-matter of your note, as then read to me and as published by you in this evening's press, demanded and has received my earnest consideration. A criminal abstraction of papers from the Finance Department seems the reason for your letter, as far as any is therein suggested. In common with other city officers, I now stand before the public and our constituency, charged with malfeasance in the administration of the high trust so long confided to my care. The legal proceedings wherein such charges are made, and to be substantiated, if at all, are now on hearing before a fearless and just tribunal. My answer thereto is before the public, and my complete defence is ready to be presented both to that high court (our constituents) and to the citizens of New York at large. My counsel has urged, by my wish, a speedy trial and a rigid investigation. I am fearless of the result and anxious for the procedure. During the many years of my administration of this office I have not seen and fail to see now any diminution of public confidence, and such fact would have been readily marked, nothing being more sensitive to the general opinion than the financial administration. I beg leave to differ from your Honor in thinking that the robbery of my office creates any unexpected or sudden emergency. I am not apprehensive that either yourself or this community will suspect that I am an accomplice in that depredation. I am happy to assure you that it has effected no serious mischief, the archives of the department containing ample abstracts of all the stolen papers. Whoever planned or executed the crime has reaped no benefit and inflicted no injury upon the public interests. Would not my resignation at this critical time give the advocates of partisan attacks upon the city government just cause to believe me to plead guilty not only to participation (at least passive) in the bur[illegible] made in the legal proceedings? My official a course. Mr. Tweed was prepared to deny every charge of wrong made against him in any relevant position of the papers, and would be prepared to do so on Wednesday morning.

Judge Barret—We do not charge Tweed with any sins of omission.

Beach stated that he had been quite unexpectedly employed in this case, and had several old cases in the Saratoga Circuit, which would require his leaving here on Wednesday evening.

Quite a long discussion arose as to the order of argument, and Barrett objecting decidedly to any long adjournment, it was decided that at the close of Tweed's affidavits, Strahan should open for the plaintiff. Beach should then speak for Connolly, and other counsel for defendants should follow, Countiff for plaintiff closing the argument. The Court then adjourned.

THE JOINT COMMITTEE.

At a meeting this afternoon of the Joint Committee of Citizens, Aldermen and Supervisors on the city accounts, it transpired that no statement of the city accounts has been submitted to them. A committee then went to see the Comptroller, but he was not in his office. The chairman of the committee of citizens then handed in a lot of documents which they required, including the Comptroller's annual accounts from 1868 to 1870, the report of the sinking fund and trust fund operations for 1869, and a statement of the city debt to August, 1871. The committee were then assigned rooms for the use of themselves and those employed to assist them, all expenses to be borne by the City Council.

THE HALL CONNOLLY TROUBLE.

There is the best authority for stating that Hall will take no further action looking toward the removal of Comptroller Connolly. In conversation with a reporter this evening he stated that he had no intention whatever of preferring articles of impeachment against Connolly. The Herald calls upon Tweed and Connolly.

THE "TRIBUNE" ON THE BURGLARY.

The Tribune says, editorially, in regard to the burglary at the Comptroller's office: If it shall appear that Connolly, on consultation with his associates, for he would not take so desperate a step alone, has committed this felony to screen their frauds, it would only show how closely they feel the dogs of retribution baying upon their tracks. It is an act of desperation and nothing less. It would show that we were nearer the end of the war against this seemingly irresistable power than any one had hoped. If they are driven to the subornation of burglary, their race is certainly near its close. We can see a light ahead. Nothing but a most criminal blundering can defeat the evident intention of the honest people of New York to resume the control of their affairs.

INJUNCTION VACATED.

An injunction obtained by James M. McGregor, Superintendent of the Department of Public Buildings, restraining Judge Tappan, of the Second District Supreme Court, from putting up two buildings on Fifty-seventh street, was vacated to-day by Judge Barnard, who remarked that he had become assured that the department was conducted in a manner which required strict investigation. Affidavits had been presented charging the officials of that department with blackmailing, and certain lawyers in its employ had been charged with stating that they should bribe the judges, in order to extort money from applicants for permits to build. An affidavit of John Sexton, architect, states that in August, 1870, he applied to Deputy Superintendent Armstrong for permission to put up two stories on a building, and that he was sent to one Robert Murray, who got the necessary permit and charged him five hundred dollars. Sexton said the matter was not worth twenty-five dollars, whereupon Murray rejoined by saying that he had to divide the money with the judges. Three hundred and fifty dollars was paid for what should have been granted without any charge. The Judge said the Grand Jury should look into the matter.

MEETING OF ITALIANS.

A meeting of Italians was held last evening at the Germania Assembly Rooms, Mr. N. Conadi presiding, at which proposals were made for the formation of political clubs and the organization of a National Bureau of Emigration, which should co-operate with the Commissioners of Emigration and be the means of securing to the newly arrived Italian emigrant protection and direction until able to make his own way in the country, as well as to provide a certain number of them with suitable employment. A committee was appointed to call upon some of the prominent bankers, with a view of establishing a bank for the benefit of emigrants and others to receive and issue drafts, &c.

ANCIENT ORDER OF GOOD FELLOWS.

The annual session of the Ancient Order of Good Fellows will commence to-morrow. Representatives from Iowa, Missouri, Mississippi, Indiana, Illinois and Louisiana arrived here to-night and were received by the Grand Lodge of the State of New York, assisted by subordinate lodges. The New York Mænnerchor, with a brass band, serenaded the visitors at the Westchester House, after which the whole marched in procession to the headquarters of the Order, No. 26 Delancy street. A banquet was given to the visitors at the Harmonic Rooms to night.

THE CITY DEBT.

The Times says: It is now stated on authority of the Hon. Robert B. Roosevelt, Democratic member of Congress from the fourth district of this city, that the debt of New York is not less than two hundred millions, or more than eighteen and one-half per cent. of the assessed valuation of its property, and twenty six per cent. of its assessed valuation of real estate, which is only a part that can be counted on to pay the debt. Of this enormous burden more than $163,000,000, or over four-fifths, has been added since January 1st, 1869, under the administration of the ring.

NO CLUE DISCOVERED.

The police have thus far failed to discover any clue to the theft of the Controller's office. It is said that duplicates of the stolen vouchers remain in the Controller's office, and that the ori

The engineer and conductor of the freight train were promptly discharged.

WHY BOILERS EXPLODE.—Many scientific reasons have been advanced in explanation of those fearful accidents destructive of so many human lives, but probably none of them are of so frequent application as this: those in charge of boilers sometimes deviate from their ordinary practice, and drink something besides Pier, Dannals & Co.'s cream ale—milk or something else.

TALLY another Republican victory for Maine.

GOLD closed in New York Saturday at 114@114¼.

HALL AND TWEED have turned against poor Connolly, and want him to resign. "When thieves fall out," etc. Democracy in New York is in hot water.

IN its list of similitudes, the Post forgot the "Black Horse Cavalry," so famous in the late Confederacy. "Blackmore" it spelled "blackamoor." It also overlooked its friends, the "black-guards."

THE "Devil is universally charged with being black."—Post.

Well, our neighbor ought to known. We confess that we are not acquainted with his color, never having seen his "Satanic Majesty."

THE MAINE ELECTION held on Monday last resulted as we predicted, in an increased majority for the Republican ticket. Governor Perham's majority one year ago was 8,238; this year it will be over 11,000. A gain of about 3,000. Another back set for the New Departure.

THE Post speaks of "well founded prejudices of white-skinned, straight-haired people." How about the hearts of such? Are they white too, and like "whited sepulchers" full of dead men's bones? Maybe they are like the "white boys of 1762." Possibly, they are "white livered knights."

ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS, of Georgia, and leader of the Southern Democratic opinion, says: "It is the ninth resolution of the Pennsylvania Harrisburg Convention, against which we war, and war to the knife." Southern Democrats, you see, don't like the way Democracy professes in Pennsylvania.

PITTSBURGH should be well and fairly represented at all the State, inter-State and county fairs held in the South and West. We can advertise what we can do in no better or cheaper way, and advertising, no matter in what manner done, is sure to pay. Let no manufacturer of the city fail to be represented at the industrial exposition about to be held in one of our neighboring States.

AN effort is being made to bring James Blackmore, Esq., out as an independent candidate for Mayor of this city. We warn our Republican friends in time, as this is another attempt to foist old wool-dyed Democrats on this community, in order to claim a Democratic victory in case of it succeeding. Why is it that these INDEPENDENT gentlemen are Democrats? Did anybody ever hear of that party supporting an independent Republican? It is a bare-faced cheat, gotten up in the interest of our wily enemy.

THE importance of registration must not be forgotten by voters. But seventeen more days remain for the performance of the duty. If not properly registered according to law, the voter is subjected to great inconvenience at the polls, having to call responsible witnesses to prove his citizenship. Some of the ward assessors assure us that not one half of the voters of their respective districts are enrolled on the registry books. Each individual should attend to this matter promptly. It is nobody's business to attend to it for him. If not registered a voter may lose his right to vote on election day altogether, or in any event, be subjected to much trouble and annoyance.

WE ARE INFORMED that earnest appeals are being made by some of the Democratic candidates for Assembly, to their Republican friends, for their votes, as a compliment to themselves individually. We warn our Republican fri... heed...

rants, together representing a large amount of discharged city liabilities, are alleged by some of your subordinates to have disappeared.

The superintendent and myself immediately had a full consultation regarding the means of investigating the untoward circumstance of the alleged burglary, and so as to punish the guilty, procure restitution of such papers as may have been taken, and protect the interests of the city, our constituents have a right to hold you responsible. With great personal reluctance I officially reach the conclusion that the exigency demands your retirement from the head of the finance department, in order that I may place there, another gentleman who will be enabled to thoroughly investigate its affairs and restore public confidence. I cannot suspend any head of department, not even pending an investigation; I can only prefer charges to the common pleas, who alone can remove after a considerable time for trial. I am compelled to throw myself, therefore, as mayor, in this unexpected and sudden emergency, upon your magnanimity, and ask under the circumstances for your resignation. Yours, truly,

A. OAKEY HALL, Mayor.

To R. B. CONNOLLY, Controller.

EVERYWHERE the most cheering news is heralded, that our success this Fall is assured. In our own State we are informed on good authority, the Chairman of the Democratic Committee considers success for his party hopeless, and has about given up his efforts to elect the State ticket. He yet hopes for a majority of the Legislature, and is bending all his energies in that direction. In Ohio the canvass progresses with great satisfaction to our friends—McCook having virtually withdrawn from active participation in it, and efforts are making to have him withdrawn altogether. Looking toward this event Ewing, his competitor for the nomination, has been solicited to take the position vacated and he has peremptorily declined. McCook has made a very bad start, and has wholly disappointed his friends. His withdrawal from the ticket is not improbable. Democracy is terribly confused through the antagonistic efforts of its leaders in our sister State. While McCook and others are still singing the beauties of the New Departure, Senator Thurman is unkind enough to step forward and announce himself on behalf of Democracy as the enemy of the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments. While the consistent followers of "old Bullion" are denouncing the "filthy rags" furnished them as money, Pendleton and Ewing vie with each other for the ascendancy in the new Democratic outcry of "Greenbacks for bonds." The voices of the Northern and Central dairymen, crying out against the "Radical tariff," are hushed by the clamor from the Democratic forges in Hamilton county. A brilliant spectacle of "confusion worse confounded" is exhibited by the Democracy of Ohio at present, and their counsel is as varied as the tongues of Babel. In the midst of this chaos, comes the peal of Republican victory from California, a State counted certain for Democracy. The blow is a staggering one for our enemy, and it infuses fresh vigor into our ranks. Let every Republican do his whole duty from now until election day and victory will again perch upon our banners.

COLOR AND CASTE.

"If, after having made voters of the negroes, in violation of laws, constitutions, customs and popular convictions, the Radicals would be content to manage their darling recruits according to the ancient modes, no objection could be made."—Post.

That is, keep them in the condition of slaves. Democracy would then be in favor of, and make no objection to negroes voting, provided they had the old privileges again, of whipping them into obedience, and if found refractory and dangerous, of turning them into money, wherewith to buy pigs and mules. That would be a nice state of affairs truly, to give a SLAVE the "right of suffrage." but retain the right of compelling him under the fear of the lash to vote as his master should dictate. We had quite enough of that, under the old three-fifths rule; the minds of the people of the United States have undergone a change since then, and FREEMEN vote now as they wish. The only exceptions to this, are found in certain localities where the old demon spirit of slavery has left some lingering relics, and under the guise of the Ku-Klux Klan, they now and then exhibit some traces of the disposition shown by our Democratic neighbor, viz: the wish to make slaves again of our freedmen, in order to compel obedience to their demands. These exceptional cases will be attended to shortly, when under the providence of God, an American citizen will then be able to declare his sentiments, and vote in accordance therewith throughout the land. Let the editor of the Post not longer roll this sweet morsal under his tongue, or indulge in hope's delusive phantoms; slavery in all its horrible forms is forever dead in the United States, and his prayers, and all the miserable class of which he is a member, can never resurrect it. What justice, what mercy could any one be supposed to possess, who could deliberately write such awful sentiments as these which follow? The incarnate fiend, fresh from the performance of some act of infernal diabolism, could scarcely exceed these utterances. Let it be known that the following is cut from an editorial article of the Pittsburgh Post:

"The Devil is universally charged with being black. Men are said to entertain black purposes—dark designs. Animals that are light or ...

fruits" that this monster bemoans? Are they then "terrible fruits" that God's image, has been elevated from the condition of swine, and placed, where, as a human being he may reap the rewards of his toil? "Shame where is thy blush?" We sorrow, we grieve to think that one of our race could stoop so low. Let it not be forgotten, as the heart that could utter such sentiments must be desperately cruel.

After the above extracts we could scarcely believe our own senses, when we read the following from the same article. The man who thus wrote must be a raving lunatic, or surely unacquainted with the force of words.

"As for us we bear them no malace. We do not wish to injure them,—we would not wrong them to the extent of a hair; we would educate them too, and try to elevate them as far as that may be possible, for white men can never fear any rivalry of theirs. But to fawn on them, to coax them, to affiliate with them—these things Democrats cannot and will not do for all their votes, if they were ten times as many as they are."

If this be true, why did he print the other part, wherein it is attempted to debase his fellow-man. If he bears no malace. why attempt to prove similarity between him and "the Devil?" If he had no intention of injuring him why classify him with "black sheep, black birds, and black jobs?" If it be true that, as he says, he will "try to elevate him," why did he moan over the "terrible fruits" of "abolition efforts." Surely the man is mad.

We have received the following communication from a life-long Democrat, who, as it will be seen, totally dissents from the deceitful professions of the Sham Democracy. He, like all honest Democrats, refuses to announce a false belief, and repudiates the Departure of Democracy from its old-time principles. He represents the honest, outspoken members of his party, and is candid enough to denounce as false professors, those who have foisted themselves into the leadership of the party, in Allegheny county. We give him a hearing, as we admire an open candid opponent at all times. Read what he says:

EDITORS GAZETTE: I find by your paper you make mention of my name, and appear to lament my non-appearance in the late New Departure Convention of the new lights, who have made a platform for Democrats, I for one am not disposed to stand on. Let me call their attention to the fate of the false philosopher who said "Let there be light," and behold all was darkness. The California Democrats have found out by this time that the new departure is not so potent as they were led to believe by "Thimble Riggers." My respect for the honored names who made and formed the Democratic party, under the lead of the patriots of '76, forbid me mingling or taking part with moon-eyed politicians who have not the courage to show their proper colors. What Democrats contend for is a strict adherance to the Jacksonian principles, such as were upheld by Benton, white men to rule the nation. On this we will stand or fall, and if we go down, let it be with the flag of the country waving over us. Sordid demagogues will find there is no punishment more to be dreaded than the scorn and contempt of a betrayed Democracy. The twisting and windings of those who arrogate to themselves the power to insert a new principle, to govern the party, brings to mind the Irish race-horse "Botherem," who drove all others before him. This may be the fate of the new fangled bamboozlers, who are ready to barter principles for office by deceiving those who are ruled out from participating with Democrats, for nine out of every ten abhor and detest the association with negroes.

I cannot see the propriety of attacking the Governor and holding him responsible for the peculations of Evans, the State agent. The Convention might with the same impropriety drag the name of the Governor of New York into the vortex, for the frauds perpetrated by the New York thieves.

I have outlived the Democracy in this our State, as appears from the action of pseudo Democrats in the State Convention, which the lesser lights followed in County Convention. Then I am out for this time, but in all probability the National Convention will do better and kick over the cock-a-hoop insolence of would-be dictators from the Know Nothing faction.

ROBT. H. KERR, Benton avenue.

Mutiny and Murder.

The crew of the North German bark Nounan, consisting of Malays, Chinamen and Japanese, bound from Tientsin Keelung, mutinied on the 18th of June, burned the ship, murdered the mate, and attempted to do the same to the captain. The attempt on the captain's life did not succeed, for it seems that with the help of some of his men he was enabled to retain, to a certain extent, the command of his vessel. On his arrival at Shanghai, Captain Hagger made the following statement:

About the 18th inst. I heard a scuffle on deck early in the morning, and went to the poop amidship to see. The serang (Malay boatswain) told me there was a junk ahead. I stooped down to look from underneath the foresail, when I was struck on the head with an iron bar. While I was trying to ward off the blow I was stabbed with a Java dagger in the back. I turned around to confront my assailant, and saw that he had lifted his hand for a second blow. I warded that off, and had one of the fingers on the left hand nearly severed. I then jumped to the quarterdeck, the Malays striking at me all the time in the face, breast, arms and hands. I was without a weapon. I was again stabbed, also by a party from behind. I turned and knocked down the one behind me with my fist. As soon as I did so I ran to the cabin for protection and arms, and the man that I knocked down followed me to the cabin door. I told him that if he came into the cabin I would shoot him. I had then about sixteen ...ver my body, which bled very ...faint, and the cook and ...e my wounds. ...ce the cabin ...out.

THE AFRICAN DIAMOND FIELDS

A Buffalonian at the Diggings.

[From the Buffalo Courier.]

We are permitted to make the following extract from a letter received by Mr. John C. Burns, of this city, from his brother, Wm. P. Burns, who some months ago left Buffalo for the diamond fields of South Africa.

PNIEL, South Africa, June 1, 1871.

Well, here I am in the diamond diggings of South Africa. I have worked just one month here, and have struck nothing yet, but there are others making fortunes all round me. It only requires a little capital, and with any luck at all a man can become rich in a short time. I tell you it is the "biggest thing" out. Diamonds are being found every day, some from twenty to eighty carats. A man, two claims above mine found a stone which he was immediately offered $60,000 for, which he refused. He is going to England with it. Such finds are quite common too. Stones vary in value from fifty to one thousand dollars, are found every day. In fact a large fortune awaits several thousands, and I am determined to be one of the number, Providence permitting. It is a rough life to lead, but a healthy one. The weather is very warm, but the country is mountainous and quite healthy, if a person takes care of himself and avoids the vile liquors which always abound in a mining camp. It costs very little to live—only thirteen dollars, in gold, if you board yourself—and Kaffirs can be hired for one shilling a day, in silver, and board themselves, to do all the digging and washing. White men do the sorting of the precious gems. A man with a small capital—say $500 in gold—and who will stick to the diggings for nine months, is almost certain to meet with success. A man came here with his little son a few days ago, having about $60 in gold. He bought a claim for $15, and tent and mining implements at auction for $15 more, which only left him $30. The third day after, he took out an eighty-three carat gem. I suppose the stone is worth $1,000, How is that for high?

Davidson Fountain in Cincinnati.

The Augusburg Algemeine Zeitung has the following discription of the fountain, of which so much has been said, with which Messrs. Probasco and Davidson purpose adorning one of the public squares of Cincinnati: "The monument, as before stated, is designed to represent the manifold blessings which water bestows on man. On the top we behold a female genius, from whose hands, stretched out in blessing, there issues a copious abundance of fine streams of water, thus happily characterizing the rain as the life giving blessing of Heaven. The figure, very graceful to behold, lightly touches with her foot a rich pedestal which shoots forth like a flower from the luxuriant crown of foliage on a gigantic trunk, around which, in four groups, about nine feet high, the immediate blessings of water are symbolized. In the first place, a beautiful young mother leading her boy to the bath; back of that a young maiden leading her father to the healing well; to the left a gardener invoking rain upon his trees, to the right an artisan on the burning roof of a house, supplicating for the quenching stream. These groups so happily and intelligently conceived, and executed in a manner so life-like and natural, stand upon a square base, in the richest renaissance style, which, with the huge semi-circular basins (in the shape of shells) attached to it, presents a most natural and picturesque appearance.

The sides of this base exhibit reliefs representing the utilizing of water for trade and industry—fishery first, then navigation, then as the propelling power of mills, and finally, resolving into steam, as that of machinery, locomotives, &c. These reliefs, so full of grace and completeness of conception, with exceedingly picturesque, natural, yet as regards style, correct execution, are perhaps, the most perfected of all the parts before described and all modeled by Kreling.

The corners of the base are broken by niches, holding children, very handsomely modeled by Frederick Muller, and representing the manifold joys which the prattling and splashing element affords to children. Thus a little girl harkens to the humming of a shell, while another decks herself with pearls; a boy exults over a caught crawfish, while his neighbor is engaged buckling on skates.

Two large fountains rise up from this base; innumerable jets of water issue forth from the richly decorated rim, thus presenting a lively, variegated picture.

The whole, down to this entirely consisting of bronze, rests on a foundation of Frankist syenite, which likewise forms the border of the basin in which it stands At the sides of this there sit, as the last offshoots of the monument, as it were—upon pedestals of granite, four vigorous youths standing in further, and that humoristic, relations to the element. Thus one rides upon a water-spewing dolphin, the other reins a similar turtle, a third skins a hydra, the fourth snatches a duck. All four are conceived with plastic life by Muller, and energetically modeled. These form the mediums for the drinking water, the large fountain being only intended for the enlivening and cooling of the place.

The rich and magnificent impression which that creates is irresistable, while the silhouettes are mostly as happy as piquant. The same freshness and immediateness that strike us in the conception we discover also in the execution, which falls in the realm of an entirely picturesque treatment of the plastic art. This renders it peculiarly suitable as an ornament for a democratic community.

The technic execution of the casting is, perhaps, the best the world renowned establishment has furnished.

The Bulwer Lyttons.

All cultivated people have a property in, and consequently sympathy with, eminent men of letters. Therefore the recent death of Mr. Bulwer Lytton's (Owen Meredith's) only son was lamented by thousands who have no sort of personal acquaintance with his family. In England, however, this regret has been increased by the fact that the succession to a well-won title and an ancient heritage—Knebworth Hall, in Hertfordshire—is now seriously threatened with interruption. Mr. Bulwer Lytton is, as most people are aware, the only son of Lord Lytton, who inherited Knebworth, one of the most interesting and attractive literary homes in the world, from his mother, the heiress of the ancient house of Lytton, whose name he assumed on inheriting her estates. Knebworth has been happily described as "the proper setting for such a jewel" as the author of "The Caxtons." It is an ancient mansion in the Tudor style, and, although only a third of its original size, is of spacious and splendid ...ensions. There is a noble library, a ... with ar-

CURES FOR DEAFNESS.

Let any one examine into the causes of deafness and he will find that nine out of ten of every one of them could have been cured in the beginning; after that, of course, when many of the parts are impaired there is very little hope of cure. Not that it is impossible, for cases can be greatly ameliorated, and even cures performed after apparent structural injury, but it is more difficult and not much to be looked for; but whilst we say this, it ought to be an additional reason for attending to the earlier symptoms of aural diseases, the tingling sensations and dullness of hearing, the tidal sounds and the sounds like a teakettle, as well as the whizzing sounds, and that like grass hoppers, which are heard by many persons, are often only premonitory symptoms of approaching deafness. Every one of these can be cured as easily as any other disease.

Dr. Keyser, at his office for chronic diseases, No. 167 Liberty street, has perfected some remarkable cures by that attention and skill by which he treats every chronic disease. Office hours from 10 A. M. until 1 P. M., and from 3 to 6 P. M.

INFLUENCE OF TEMPERATURE ON HEALTH.

In the fall the difference between the temperature of night and day is greater than at any other time of the year. In the early autumn the quicksilver sometimes rises as high during the day as in the most fervid summer weather; while at night it often sinks to an almost wintry point. The human body not being made of steel or India rubber, sensibly feels these tremendous changes. To fortify the system against them, a genuine tonic is required; and the public has long since discovered that among this description of medicines Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is infinitely the best. It gently quickens the circulation, regulates the bowels, tones the liver, braces the nerves, and thus puts the whole physique on its defense against the vicissitudes of temperature in our climate. Few, if any cases of epidemic fever are heard of in localities where it is in common use. As it becomes more and more widely known, and the demand for it increases, chills and fever, and the billous remittent seem to recede before it, and if ever it should come into universal use, these diseases would cease to be known as the scourges of our low-lying and marshy districts. That homely bit of proverbial philosophy, that "prevention is better than cure," should be especially borne in mind in the autumn months; and indeed in all seasons, together with the fact, that among all the preventives of malarious disease, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the most safe and potent.

Be certain, however, to obtain the genuine article, as countless imitations of a pernicious character are abroad. See that the externals are all right, and remember that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is sold in bottles alone.

LOUISVILLE
CEMENT.
The Best--The Cheapest.
The Cement has acquired the reputation as the first in the country in hydraulic strength and uniform reliability.
It is now in general use from the lakes to the Gulf, most of the public works in the West and South being constructed with it.
The mills at Louisville having been enlarged and improved, can supply any demand, and though the Cement has always, for 30 years brought higher prices than competing brands, it is from this time the determination of the manufacturers, in order to largely increase the sale and extend the use of their Cement, to furnish it in the principal markets at prices which make it the most available and economical for all classes of work.
The large capacity of this Cement for taking sand renders it much the cheapest that can be used for buildings of any kind.
At the reduced prices in Pittsburgh its cost is not much above common lime, which makes it unquestionably to the interest of owners and builders that the foundation of every good house should be laid in this Cement.
A large stock of fresh Cement has just been received by barges from Louisville, and is offered at greatly reduced prices by the following dealers:

DEAFNESS
Positively Cured.
Below Dr. Sprecher makes public only a few prominent and diverse cases of Deafness cured by him. All the columns of this valuable journal would not give space enough for even a brief mention of the cases of Diseased Ears cured by us during our stay in Pittsburgh.

Remarkable Cure of Deafness.
On the 25th day of March, 1871, there came to our office Mr. ROBERT KING, Collector of Water Taxes. He said he had suffered for many years from deprivation of the power of hearing, and had in the last year become so thoroughly deaf that he could not attend to his business All the various tests given in the office only proved that his case was certainly one of great severity. An examination of the ears, however, proved them to be in a condition to encourage us at least in the application of Electricity. The drums of the ears were in an apparently healthy condition, and from all the symptoms we decided that the case was one of Nervous Deafness.
After having Mr. King under treatment for a couple of weeks he was thoroughly restored, could hear the clock in the operating room, and many other sounds which he could not hear on commencing the treatment. In short, he is now thoroughly cured, and has been for over three months. Any one skeptical upon these points can consult Mr. ROBERT KING, 248 Bedford avenue.
Next we would call attention to the following cure of Deafness:

Finance and Trade.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, September 11, 1871.

Our latest Philadelphia stock quotations are as follows: Allegheny Valley 7-30s, 95; Penna R. R., 62⅛@62¼; Reading, 57⅛@57¼; Catawissa, 18½; preferred, 50; Phila. & Erie, 28@28¼.

A New York correspondent, under date of Sept. 9, writes as follows: "The rates for grain freights are moving upward, under an active demand for vessels for North of Europe ports. Most of the suitable tonnage has been engaged, and not a few small and medium vessels, bound this way from foreign ports, have also been taken up at current market rates. The petroleum trade, for the moment, seems to halt, and to be exempt from general buoyancy."

—The Philadelphia Ledger, of Monday, says: "There is little inquiry for money. The banks are discounting all the business paper offering of sufficient credit. We do not hear of any material change in rates, which still rule on call at from 5 to 6 per cent.; strictly first-class endorsed paper, from sixty to ninety days, 5½ to 6½ per cent., and for four months paper of the same credit, 6@7 per cent. Single name paper is slow of sale at 7 to 8 per cent., according to credit. Inferior paper is almost wholly without sale at any price. The banks generally are free lenders on call or short time."

Closing quotations as received by James T. Brady & Co:

NEW YORK, September 12, 1871.

Gold dull; opening at 114@114⅛, running down to 113¾, and closing at opening prices. Cash gold easier. Gold loans were made at from 1-16 of 1 per cent. per day down to flat for use, and 1 to 3 per cent. for carrying. Late in the day 1-16 was bid for use of any part of two million to-morrow. Clearances about $52,000,000. Governments easier, with the exception of currency sixes. The decline was influenced by a slight depression in gold and by sales to realize. The stock market opened excited and strong, but after the second call the Bears sold a large amount of stock, and hammered prices down considerably. Wabash has been the principal feature, selling from 65⅛ to 67, and back to 65. The advance on Wabash in the morning was caused by the announcement that Horace F. Clark, James H. Banker and Augustus Schell had consented to receive the proxies of stockholders in opposition to the present management. Union Pacific declined to 30⅛. The market at the close was weak and lower on active business. The chief activity was in Wabash, Ohio and Mississippi, Erie and Northwestern shares. The Vanderbilt party and other bulls in the market offered no resistance to the downward course of prices, preferring to increase the short interest in the market. The situation is daily becoming more interesting, and there are evidences of numerous strong combinations, both for an advance and decline in the stock market. The money market exhibited increased ease to-day, and has returned to its old condition of large offering of capital and low rates of interest. Call loans 2@3½. State bonds dull and heavy; Tennessee's weak and lower.

PITTSBURGH MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, September 12, 1871.

ASHES—Common Soda ash, 4@4¼; refined 4¾@4½; Pearls, 9; Pots, 7½; Nitrate Soda, 4½.

BEESWAX—Quoted at 30@33c.

BUTTER—The market is quiet but steady; we can report a fair demand for the better grades with sales at 20@23 for good to prime, and 24@25 for choice.

BROOM CORN—Quiet: 4@6 cts.

CIDER—The receipts are increasing but the stock in this market, as yet, is not large, and prices remain unchanged at $5@8 per bbl.

CARBON OIL—Is quoted steady at 22½@23 cts for standard brands, in a jobbing way.

CHEESE—Is reported more active, and, in consequence, firmer in the east, and an advance in prices is expected soon. We continue to quote at 10@10½, for prime Ohio Goshen; 9@9½, for Factory, and 8@8½, for Dairy.

COUNTRY BACON—Continues very dull. Country Lard is still quoted at 8@8½.

CEMENT—Louisville, $2,50@3,00 per bbl. Rosendale, $4,00@4,50; Calcined Plaster, $4,25@4,50.

CORN MEAL—Is quoted, in small lots, at 80@85 cts per bushel.

DRIED FRUIT—We can report arrivals of several small lots, principally from the south, but there has been so little done, as yet, that it is difficult to give accurate quotations.

EGGS—The receipts continue meagre and the stock is light, but nevertheless trade is slow, and prices are barely maintained; we reduce our quotations on fresh to 22@23; some dealers are still asking 24 and even 25, but buyers are reported very scarce at anything over 23. We have heard of no inquiry from the east for some days.

FRUITS—Apples continue to arrive freely, and the market is now as well supplied as it has been at any time this season; however, as Peaches and Plums are becoming scarce, and will soon disappear it is expected, and with good reason, too, that there will be more apples wanted from this out, and it is not likely, therefore, that prices will go much lower; we continue to quote at $2@3 per bbl for fair to prime, and $3,25@3,50 for choice. Peaches—the offerings are light mostly from the west and an inferior quality; may be quoted at $1,50@2 per bushel. Plums scarce and higher, $4,00@4,50. Grapes a shade firmer in consequence of diminished receipts; we now quote at 6 cts.

FLOUR—According to our dispatches of Monday, was dull in New York and firm in the west; from which it will be seen that the market is in a very peculiar condition, and it follows that there must be an advance at one end or a decline at the other, before the trade is set right again. It is alleged, and there is reason to believe it is true, that the present year has been a hard one on western millers, as wheat has been and continues much higher relatively than flour; speculation has kept the former considerably above its level, but the latter could not advance the latter in consequence of the fact that exporters did not and would not respond. We continue to quote good spring extras at $6,50@6,75; good to choice red winter, $6,50@6,75; and choice Minnesota baker's flour, $6,90@7.

GRAIN—Wheat continues to come in very sparingly, and, with a good demand, the market is strong, and prices, although not quotably higher, are tending upward; red, $1,26@1,28; amber, $1,30; white, $1,32@1,35. As noted in our last report, wheat is lower here, relatively, than it is in the west, though, at the same time, prices are high enough when we take the eastern markets into consideration. Oats, steady and in fair demand, but not quotably higher; mixed, by the car load, 42@43; prime white, 44@45. Corn is generally reported firmer, but prices are not quotably higher; mixed shelled, 61½@62½; prime yellow, 63@64—sale 5 cars mixed at 62½. There is considerable inquiry for Rye, and but little offering: No. 1 sells readily at 80. Barley—No. 1 spring may be fairly quoted at 80@82, and it is probable the demand will improve from this out, as the weather will be getting more favorable for malting.

Following is a report of the sales made at the Exchange to-day:

1 car Shelled Corn, 63.
1 " White Oats, 44.
1 " " " 45.
3 " Mixed " free in elevator, 43½.
50 sks Red Wheat, $1,27.

GROCERIES—The market is steady and moderately active, but devoid of any new features not already noted. Following are the ruling quotations:

SUGARS—Refined—Standard Hards, 14; A. 13¾; B. 13½; Ex. C, 13; C. Yellow, 12¾. Porto Rico Sugars—Choice, 11½; Prime, 11; Good, 10½. Cuba Sugars, 10¼@11. Demarara, 12¾@12½. Sugar House Sugars—Knight's Extra C. Yellow, 11¾; C. C. 11½; other grades, 9@11. New Orleans Sugars—None in market.

COFFEE—Fancy Rio, 21; Prime, 20; Good, 19; Fair, 18@18½. Java, 25@28. Laguayra, 19@20. Mocha, 45. Roasted Coffee—J. S. Dilworth & Co.'s pure, 22. Lower grades, 21.

SYRUPS—Havemyer & Elder's, 70. White Honey, 70. Lovering's, 60. Durant's, 70. Brune's, 70; other grades, 48@60. New Orleans Molasses, 60@68.

RICE—Choice Carolina, 9½; Good, 9¼; Fair, 8¾. Rangoon, 8@8½. Patna, 8.

SPICES—Pepper, 22. Allspice, 18. Cassia, 50. Cloves, 20. Nutmegs, $1,30.

HAY—Baled is in steady demand and tight pressed sells readily, by the car load, at $24@25.

HIDES—Green Salted, 10½@11½; Green Butcher's, 8; Dry Flint, 21@22; Green Calf Skins, 14@15; Green Salted Calf, 17@18.

HUSKS—Quoted at 2¼@2¾ cts.

HONEY—Is in steady demand and prime white clover honey, in good condition, sells readily at 28@30.

HEMP—Is higher; last sales reported at $165 per ton.

LIME—Perrysburg white, $2,00@2,25 per bbl; Cleveland $2,25; Eastern, $1,75.

MILL FEED—Is steady with a fair jobbing trade at $21@22 for Bran; $23@25 for Seconds; $33@35 for Middlings, and $43@45 for Oil Meal.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY Sept. 12, 1871.

The oil market continues quiet and presents but little that is really new or important. Refined opened firmer, and, as compared with yesterday, prices are a shade higher; the fact that a number of refiners have "shut down," and that others contemplate following suit, will, in all probability, tend to stiffen the refined market, while, on the other hand, it should tend to weaken crude, and this is just what is wanted. As noted repeatedly, crude has been, and is still, entirely too high for refiners, and it is this, more than anything else, that has brought about the suspension above referred to. Refiners, generally, have taken this step very reluctantly, but they have resolved that, unless the producers are willing to accept what they can afford to pay, that suspension is their only remedy.

CRUDE.

Pittsburgh deliveries nominal at 11½@12 for spot; 11½@11¾ for seller all year; and 12¼@12½, buyer all year. Parker, $4,60@4,65—it is said that the pipe companies are paying $4,60.

REFINED.

As already noted a shade higher; September, 23⅛@23¼; October, 23¾@24; November, 24. No sales reported.

OIL BARRELS.

Continue very dull. City make, spot delivered, $1,60; country, $1,50.

RIVER NEWS.

There is little or no change in the river, the heavy rains of Monday night notwithstanding, and navigation outside of the Monongahela is completely suspended. The weather yesterday was cloudy and cool with indications of more rain.

The Monongahela river boats are getting about all the business they can do on the water.

—An investigation of the cause of the explosion of the boiler of the low-pressure steamer Ocean Wave, while lying at Point Clear, with an excursion party on board, on Sunday, August 27, and by which a large number of persons were killed and wounded, is being investigated at Mobile by Mr. Youmans, Local Inspector of hulls at that place, together with Mr. J. A. Moffett, Local Inspector of boilers, of the New Orleans District, under the direction of Supervising Inspector Rogers. Mr. James Murray was the engineer on duty at the time of the explosion. The testimony thus far, as published, shows the boiler was placed in the Ocean Wave some two years prior to the explosion, and was at that time about four years old. It was formerly used on the steamer Sparks, which boat had sunk. This boiler, like that of the Westfield, was evidently weak, and a defective part had been supplied with what is termed a "soft patch," which one of the witnesses (the chief engineer of another steamer) thought weakened the boiler, as the bolts were placed only on one side to stop a leak. He also found the riveting part of the stay-bolts eaten off.

—Wednesday's Steubenville News says: To-day were laid in their final resting place the remains of Mr. P. Dohrman, an old citizen of this place. After a lingering illness he expired yesterday morning, shortly after midnight. Mr. Dohrman, in former years, was connected with the Ohio river trade, running as pilot between Pittsburgh and Louisville, and was at different times part owner in a number of boats. For the last twenty years he has resided in this city, abandoning the river on account of advancing age, and, in partnership with his brother, has been engaged in the grocery trade. Mr. Dohrman was highly esteemed by those who knew him best, was long a member of the Fifth Street Methodist Church, and ever considered an upright man.

—Mobile formerly had free wharfage, but has lately been again practicing the extortion. The Register says of the matter: The enactment of a wharf tariff by the city authorities has met with general disfavor among our business men, and efforts were made to induce the authorities to abolish said charges, and make the wharves, as heretofore, free. Failing in this, a large number of merchants have formed a combination, believing the charging of wharfage injurious to to the city's interest and prosperity, have obtained wharves on which all goods will be passed free. As we we understand it, they obligate themselves to receive and ship all goods on such wharves.

—A table of statistics of the receipts of hay at New Orleans for the past year shows that when weight is considered, at least one-half of all the hay handled in that market comes from points above Louisville, and from Cincinnati and below, it is safe to say that three-fourths of it is produced in Switzerland, Ohio and Dearborn Counties, Indiana. The number of bales received from Louisville and below the falls was 29,269; Cincinnati and above the falls, 90,735; St. Louis and Cairo, 57,039; Bath and Portland, Me., 1,050.

—A Memphis special, under date of Sunday, to the Cincinnati Commercial says: The Mollie Moore passed up this evening, five days out from New Orleans, with 300 tons for above the falls. The Pilot, with the Antelope's barges, bound down, is aground at the foot of Island No. 40, 12 miles below here. The machinery of the Arthur has all been taken out, and wreckers will finish up their work in two or three days more.

—One boiler is being taken out of the Dexter, at St. Louis, and the other seven spread out. The whole steam arrangement is being reconstructed, patent grating being applied, and a smoke and spark consumer. It is understood that the seven boilers will make as much steam as the eight formerly, and a great saving in fuel will be effected.

—A band of Indians got a barrel of whisky from the wreck of the Ida Reese on the upper Missouri river, and they all got drunk and a general fight ensued, in which several Indians were killed. "No arrests had been made when last heard from."

—The St. Louis and New Orleans packet John Kyle has adopted the restaurant system and apartments for the purpose are being arranged. The James Howard, also a New Orleans packet, found the system to work satisfactorily.

—The Beardstown, from St. Louis, has gone in the Galveston and Liberty trade. She is owned by Colonel E. S. Bell, of Waco, and commanded by Captain J. H Matthews, formerly of Galveston, Texas.

—The Dictator sunk two monitor barges loaded with coal at Island 40. The barges had 17,500 bushels of coal for Brown & Jones, of Memphis, and were insured. The loss will be about $4,000.

—Freights to New Orleans from St. Louis have advanced to 75c for flour, $1,25 for pork, $2,50 for whisky, 50c for hay and 40c for pound freight. Cabin passage is from $25 to $30.

—Capt. M. W. Beitzhoover, of Pittsburgh, denies the report started by a St. Louis paper, that he is married.

WHY "LONDON HAIR COLOR RESTORER" IS SO HIGHLY ESTEEMED AND UNIVERSALLY USED.

HOME NEWS.

The wholesale price of Salt has advanced to $1,75 per barrel, and the retail price to $2,00 at all the saltworks in Western Pennsylvania.

The Card of the Hon. James Blackmore, for Mayor, appears in to-day's paper. This settles the matter as regards his being in the field.

Night School.—Evening school commences in the Sixth ward next Monday and all persons between the ages of ten and twenty-one years, who cannot attend day school, are urgently requested to promptly and regularly attend.

Suit Against an Auctioneer.—Thomas A. Spence, proprietor of an advertising sheet, made an information before Alderman McMasters, charging G. W. Frazier with obtaining the publication of advertisements to the amount of forty-three dollars by false and fraudulent representations, said representations being that he (Frazier) was proprietor of the California bitters. The case will be heard shortly.

The Monongahela Valley Agricultural and Horticultural Society will hold an annual exposition at Monongahela City on the 20th and 21st inst. The premiums are large and liberal, and we learn that a great many entries have already been made. The Fair will doubtless prove a great success. The Brownsville line of steamboats will issue half-fare tickets from all the landings to and from Monongahela City, thus affording most excellent advantages to visitors. We hope Pittsburgh will be well represented.

The Sixth Ward School.—The attention of the citizens of the Sixth ward, this city, is called to the financial exhibit of the school accounts for the year ending June 1st, 1871. The board deserves credit for this public showing recently inaugurated, and it would be well if all the ward school boards would do likewise. It appears from this statement and that of the previous year, published in the GAZETTE, that the ordinary expenses of the board during the past year have been over one thousand dollars less than the previous year.

Drowned at the Point.

About five o'clock last evening, while a number of men were engaged in removing the dump-boat at the Point, one of a pair of horses that were used in the work slipped and fell into the river, carrying with him the driver, Fritz Mack by name. Horse and man disappeared under the boat, and it was fully three minutes before Mack was rescued. He was brought ashore in a condition that led his friends to believe that he was drowned, but efforts to resuscitate him soon proved successful. The horse was not recovered.

Amusements.

BEAMER'S OPERA HOUSE.—A very large audience assembled at the old Opera House last evening to pay tribute to the worth and excellence of Mr. John Collins, the accomplished Irish comedian. The sterling play of the "Serious Family," was particularly well rendered and the farce which followed, "How to pay the rent" was side splitting. Mr. Collins has drawn remarkably well the past two evenings and no wonder. He is a true genius and has very fine support in the company of the Opera House. To-night a grand bill is offered at this first class temple of the drama.

OPERA HOUSE.—There was quite a large audience at the Opera House last night. Mr. Jefferson appeared to good advantage as usual. He was pretty well supported.

An Unhappy Stakeholder.

James Hamill appeared before Alderman Strain last evening and made a charge of larceny as bailee against George Yardley. It appears that Yardley and another man made a bet of $40 each at the wrestling match, selecting Jimmy as stakeholder. The match was not officially decided at the time, but notwithstanding this fact, Yardley, it is alleged, prevailed on Jimmy to hand him the money, promising that, in the event of the referee deciding adversely, he would return the stakes. The match, it seems, was decided a "draw," and when Jimmy mentioned this fact to Yardley, that individual contended that his man was the winner, and he refused to shell out. The other party now comes on Mr. Hamill for his forty dollars, and the unfortunate stakeholder appeals to the law for redress. Yardley has not been arrested.

Forbes District Schools.

A regular meeting of the Forbes Dirtrict (Sixth ward) School Board, was held on Monday evening, at which it was decided to open the night schools on Monday evening next, 18th inst. Professor Eaton and Misses Garwin, Wallace and Randolph, were elected teachers, conditional that there be sufficient scholars to justify that number; when the number in attendance diminishes so as to allow it, one of the teachers will be dropped. The petition for the privilege of allowing the Forbes street sewer to run through the school lots, was taken up, but the contract having been already let and no official information being before the Board concerning the matter, no action was taken. A number of bills was passed and other business of no public interest was transacted, after which the Board adjourned. The financial exhibit for the past year will be found in another column.

A First-Class Carpet House.

We believe, with one exception, the carpet store of Henry McCallum, (late McCallum Bros.,) at 51 Fifth avenue is the oldest exclusive carpet store in the city. The firm first established itself in an upper room on Fourth avenue, where by diligence and fair dealing their business increased to such an extent that they purchased the site and erected the fine building which they now occupy, where the present proprietor displays a stock of carpets, druggets, mattings, lineings, oil cloths, &c., &c., at once large and varied, embracing fresh invoices from the foreign and home manufactories, of all grades, from the low-priced and commonest, to the most elegant and costly, adapted in quality and style to every taste, including of course, the most critical and refined. We advise all parties who have occasion to purchase anything in Mr. McCallum's line to visit his store, as one in which they can scarcely fail to be suited.

The "Lower Classes."

Who are the "lower classes," so often referred to with contempt by the haughty titled, pampered aristocrats? Are they the toiling millions, the laboring man and woman, the farmer, the mechanic, the artisan, the inventor, the producer? Far from it. They are nature's nobility, nature's upper classes, God's favorites, the salt of the earth. No matter whether they are high or low in station, rich or poor in pelf, conspicuous or humble in position, they are certainly the "upper classes" in the order of nature, whatever may be the fictitious distinctions of society, fashionable or unfashionable. It is no law, it is the duty, privilege, and pleasure for the great man and whole-souled woman to earn what they possess, to earn their own way through life, to be the architects of their own fortune. Some may rank the class we speak of as only relatively low—in fact, the middle classes. We insist that they are absolutely, and without doubt, the very highest. If there is a class of human beings on earth who may be properly designated as low, it is those who spend without earning, who consume without producing, who dissipate on the earnings of their fathers, without doing any good to themselves or the community to which they belong. They are the lower, and the only "lower order" the world over.

"The Water Commission Ordinance."

The mysterious disappearance of the Water Commission ordinance as passed by Councils has created considerable ill-humor, and in some quarters, there seems to be a disposition to attach blame to the GAZETTE as the official paper, for the subsequent errors and trouble. That this is unjust, and that the GAZETTE had no connection with the "mixing up" will be apparent from a brief statement of the facts. The ordinance when first reported by Mr. Burgwin, was not then considered but the clerks were instructed to have it published in the official papers, for the convenience of members. This was done and at the next meeting it was called up, amended and finally passed. The amendments were made to the printed copy, and the ordinance with the amendments "tucked in" was taken from the Council page by a reporter of the Dispatch who subsequently contracted to send slips, or proofs to the other papers. One of these printed slips of the ordinance, was sent to the GAZETTE office, by the Clerk of Select Council as official, and ordered to be published, and as such it appeared in our columns. No changes were made—the supposition being that all was correct, that had the certificate of the clerk whose business it was to see to such matters.

Thus nothing came to the GAZETTE office but this slip, and the ordinance as published in the GAZETTE tallies exactly with the copy furnished. If the original copy was not signed by President Oliver, or if it was lost, as is now alleged, the fault lays, not with the official papers, but with the person who stole and then lost it, and with the clerk who furnished the imperfect copy.

We make this statement in justification of ourselves to refute any impressions attaching blame to the GAZETTE and to throw the responsibility where it belongs.

It may be proper to state also in this connection that the GAZETTE never publishes ordinances, until they are sent by the clerks of Councils, endorsed by them as correct and ordered to be published.

Election Laws.

Frequent inquiries have of late been made relative to ward, borough and township elections. The following is a correct copy of an act passed during the last session of the Legislature, which repeals the act for holding such elections in October, and making the elections hereafter to be held under the former law, which fixed the third Friday of March for holding township elections—consequently there can be no township elections held until the third Friday of March, 1872:

AN ACT,

To repeal the 15th section of an act entitled "An act further supplemental to the act relative to the elections of this Commonwealth," approved April 17th, 1869.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the 15th section of the Act, entitled "An Act further supplemental to the Act relative to the elections of this Commonwealth, approved April 17th, 1869, be and the same is hereby repealed, and that in the year A. D. 1872, and annually thereafter, all elections for city, ward, borough, township and election officers, in the different cities and counties of this Commonwealth, shall be on the days and at the times they were held as provided by law in the different cities, wards, boroughs and townships in said counties prior to the 17th April, A. D. 1869, the date of the passage of the act aforesaid.

SEC. 2. That the terms of the different city, ward, borough, township and election officers in said counties, to be elected at the elections to be held in 1872, shall begin when the terms of such officers heretofore elected shall expire, and so with such officers annually thereafter, as provided by law prior to the passage of the act of 17th April, 1869.

PROVIDED, The terms of assessors for the present year shall extend until their successors are duly elected and qualified, pursuant to this act;

Provided further, This act shall not apply to any elections provided for by special laws, since the passage of the act of April 17, A. D. 1869; and the said elections in the county of Clearfield shall be held on the last Friday in December of each year.

JAMES H. WEBB,
Speaker of the H. of R.
WILLIAM A. WALLACE,
Speaker of the Senate.
Approved the 28th day of June, A. D. 1871.

THE CITY SCHOOLS.

Regular Monthly Meeting—Reports of Standing Committees—Monthly Receipts and Expenditures—Text Books—Additional Teachers in the High School, &c., &c.

The Central Board of Education held its regular monthly session yesterday afternoon. The following members were present:

Messrs. Aiken, Chadwick, Craig, Fleming, Getty, Hamilton, Harrison, Hartman, McEwen, Nobbs, Praetsch, Rankin, Shaw, Sims, Sterrett, Strain, Young, President Wilson.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

EXPENSES FOR AUGUST.

The Secretary read his report for the last month, showing the expenses to be $10,336.99. Approved and ordered to be filed.

A poem presented by Miss Emily E. Tassey was referred to the High School Committee for examination.

THE FINANCES.

Mr. Getty, chairman of the Finance Committee, presented the following report from that committee for the month of August:

Receipts	$122,683 89
Expenditures	62,322 22
Balance in Treasury	60,361 67

Received and filed.

TEXT BOOKS.

Mr. Aiken, of the Committee on Text-books and course of instruction reported in favor of the following books, which were adopted by the Board, viz: Loomis' Teacher on Algebra, Robinson's Progressive Arithmetic, German speller by Louis Wild, St. Louis, German First Reader by Anton Stane, St. Louis, German Second Reader by Anton Stane, St. Louis.

THE HIGH SCHOOL.

Mr. Shaw, from the Committee on High Schools, reported in favor of an additional teacher on classical attainments.

Mr. Hamilton, one of the committee, dissented from the report of Mr. Shaw.

Mr. Shaw stated that the faculty thought it would almost be impossible to get along without the addition. The report was, however, received and filed.

Mr. Hartman moved that the Committee on High School be authorized to advertise for two teachers, one to fill the place of the late Prof. Dean, and the other to fill the position recommended by the High School Committee.

Mr. Hamilton was opposed to the advertising for the additional teacher, but wanted the making of a German Professor. He said that the argument the last time, when the German question was brought up, was that there was not enough work for a full professorship. Now they want an additional teacher. He said that the German people asked for a full professorship and their demand should be heeded by this Board. To put the teaching of German into the hands of a lady was simply ridiculous, not that anything could be said against the lady, but that the dignity of the High School at home and abroad, demanded a full professorship for the German language. To show that there was enough work for a German Professor, and to refute the argument that he would not have enough to do, he recited the following, showing how many hours Miss Voight taught German last week. Viz: Monday, 3 hours; Tuesday, 3 hours; Wednesday, 4 hours; Thursday, 3 hours; Friday, 4 hours. Total, 17 hours.

Mr. Hartman withdrew the latter part of his motion and only to advertise for a classical teacher.

Mr. Hamilton amended by moving to advertise for a German teacher.

Mr. Hartman stated that if the German teacher would be capable of taking the place of a classical teacher then he would be in favor of it.

Mr. Aiken moved that the amendment be laid on the table.

Mr. Hamilton called for the ayes and nays, resulting as follows:

Ayes—Messrs. Aiken, Chadwick, Craig, Fleming, Hartman, McEwen, Rankin, Shaw and President Wilson, 9.

Nays—Messrs. Getty, Hamilton, Harrison, Nobbs, Praetsch, Sims, Strain and Young, 8.

The amendment was therefore laid on the table and Mr. Hartman's motion was carried.

A HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL.

Mr. Aiken then moved that the vacancy in the Principalship of the High School be referred to the High School Committee to report a suitable person to the Board to fill said vacancy. Carried.

HIGH SCHOOL REPORT.

Prof. Lucky, who is temporarily filling the position of Principal of the High School until the election of a Principal, presented the following report, viz: That the school organized on Monday, September 4th. There were two hundred and sixty-six scholars present. He then recommends that certain pupils who were allowed a re-examination, and who then passed the examination creditably, be allowed to enter the High School. The board approved the recommendation.

The report was received and filed.

NIGHT SCHOOLS.

The following, from the Committee on Night Schools, was presented:

TO THE CENTRAL BOARD OF EDUCATION—Gentlemen: Your Committee on Night Schools would respectfully recommend the adoption of the following:

Resolved, That Night Schools be opened at such times as the Local Boards may determine, and continue for sixty-five nights of actual teaching of two hours each.

Resolved, That in each district where the average attendance shall be over ten and under twenty-five, there shall be appropriated the sum of fifty dollars per month, and for each additional average attendance of twenty, or fractional part of more than one-half of that number, an appropriation of twenty-five dollars a month be allowed; and that the local boards divide said appropriation as they deem best, provided that no teacher receive more than fifty dollars per month, and that every teacher be required to see that no pupil who is in attendance at any public or private school, or is under the age of twelve years, or who is unemployed during the day, be enrolled as a pupil; and that each principal is hereby required to make out and forward to the City Superintendent a report of the attendance at the end of each calendar month.

Mr. Craig moved that the Secretary be instructed to pay to the widow of Professor Dean three months' salary, as Professor Dean up to the time of his death was very busily engaged in working for the benefit of the school. Carried.

Mr. Craig asked three additional teachers for the Oakland District, as they will go into their new building soon. Referred to the Committee on Teachers and Salaries with power to act.

Mr. Hartman stated that he had heard that an irregularity has occurred in the drawing of the warrants of June. He moved that the matter be referred to the Committee on Teachers and Salaries to investigate the matter and report to the Board. Carried.

Mr. Nobbs moved that the Committee on High School be authorized to make all necessary arrangements for the dedication and opening of the High School building. Carried.

A number of bills were ordered to be referred to the proper committees, and when endorsed, to be paid.

An invitation from the Oakland Board was read. It invited the Central Board to the dedication ceremonies of their new building at Soho next Friday at 2 o'clock P. M. Invitation accepted.

On motion, adjourned.

EAST BIRMINGHAM COUNCIL.

Regular Monthly Meeting—The Twentieth Street Sewer—Appropriation to the Sanitary Committee—Routine Business.

The East Birmingham Council met last evening in regular monthly meeting.

Messrs. Habermann, Wharton, Ihmsen and Burgess Jones were present.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Mr. Deacon, on behalf of a large number of citizens present, arose and asked that as it was getting late in the season the people present be allowed to come into council in order to get the council to take action in regard to the Twentieth street sewer. The speaker said that three committees, and the Borough Regulator had reported in favor of the sewer and now it still remains on the desk as unfinished business and they desired that some disposition be made of the matter, as their cellars were full of water.

Mr. Wharton said that he understood that about nine-tenths of the property holders were opposed to the sewer.

Mr. Deacon stated that in a sanitary point of view it was necessary to have a sewer on the street, for the Sanitary Committee itself said that the water in the cellar causes noxious vapors to arise that are very injurious to the people's health.

Mr. Wharton stated that it was only from a financial point of view that he was opposed to it.

Mr. Habermann suggested that the citizens get up another petition for the sewer, and if signed by a majority of the property holders in favor of the sewer, he and the Finance Committee would vote for giving it to them. He was not in favor of going against the will of the majority of the property holders.

Mr. Wharton moved that the matter be laid over for two weeks, when the persons who want the sewer can bring in the petition for it. Carried.

An ordinance for the grading, paving and curbing of Wharton street from Nineteenth to Twentieth street was introduced and passed.

An ordinance for the grading, paving and curbing of Wright's alley, between Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth street was passed.

The Clerk read the resolutions that were adopted by the Sanitary Committee at its last meeting.

Mr. Ihmsen was in favor of the resolutions and thought it would be nothing more than right to place in the hands of the Committee some means to hire persons and carry out their work. He offered the following resolutions, viz.:

Resolved, That this Council appropriate to the Sanitary Commission for the purpose of carrying out the sanitary measures recommended by them the sum of $500.

Resolved, That this sum be subject to the order of the Chairman of the Sanitary Commission on the Treasurer of the borough, in such sums as there be required, and that the Treasurer charge the same to the Sinking Fund Appropriation.

Resolved, That the thanks of this Council be tendered to the members of the Sanitary Commission for the faithful fulfillment of their mission.

Mr. Wharton was in favor of the appropriation.

The Burgess was not in favor of giving the money to the commission, but thought it would be better if the council would have the disposition of the money.

Mr. Wharton stated that it was necessary that the commission have power and money and do as is done in Pittsburgh, destroy bedding in which small-pox patients laid. He mentioned a case where bedding in which a small-pox patient died, had been thrown on the river bank, and children played thereon.

The resolutions were then unanimously adopted.

The following is the Burgess' report for the last month:

Pay roll of police	$221 73
Receipts from fines	83 00

He also suggests that an additional policeman be appointed and one of the night police be made a Captain of the night police, as the Chief cannot be up day and night.

Report accepted and filed.

Mr. Habermann, of the Finance Committee, reported that there was over $2,000 in the Treasury at present. Accepted and filed.

The Street Commissioner's report showed the street expenses for the last month amounted to $428.22.

A number of bills were read and warrants for the same were ordered.

On motion, adjourned.

The Forbes Street Opening.—Another meeting of the property owners on Forbes street, who object to the assessment made for the opening of the same, was held last evening at the Ann street school house, Mr. McGinnis in the chair.

A number of persons paid in their quota towards the expenses of the contest.

The collection committees also reported, and the total receipts for the evening amounted to over $247.

A discussion occurred as to future movement, after which the meeting adjourned to meet next Thursday two weeks.

Fall Clothing.—Young gentlemen can fit themselves out with fall clothing in short order, at reasonable prices, at Heppenheide & Co.'s, No. 50 Sixth street, near Penn avenue. The advantage in purchasing at this establishment is that nothing is kept on hand that is not good, and no article is allowed to go out of the store unless satisfaction is given to the purchaser.

DR. ANDREW JACKSON.

His Speech Last Night at the Second Ward Park—He is Still in the Field as a Candidate for Mayor.

The inevitable Dr. Andrew Jackson, the hero of many bloody wars, the cook of Libby Prison, the pilot of union refugees and the ingloriously defeated candidate for the Republican nomination for Mayor of our city, last night opened his own campaign as an independent candidate for the office of Chief Magistrate of the municipal government, with a powerful speech, delivered in the beautiful and enchanting grove attached to the Second Avenue Park. The speech was the long expected occasion of the campaign and the illustrious warrior, whose grey hairs, if he did not wear a wig, would appeal most eloquently to his fellow citizens, was greeted by an audience so large that the broad acres of the capacious park were unable to afford comfortable standing room. The celebrated Tartar Emetic Band, composed of a gong, two base drums, a fife, fiddle and dinner bell, all in the hands of proficient artists, was on hand, and discoursed the most excellent music, i. e. of the kind. The meeting was organized by calling a prominent member of the City Council to the chair, and by the designation of a number of vice presidents. The reporters of the press, in accordance with an old fashioned custom, were chosen secretaries.

Dr. Jackson on ascending the platform looked around his audience, and after taking a hearty drink from a pitcher, the contents of which was generally supposed to be beer, smiled graciously in response to the thundering peals of applause that must have deafened the little fishes in the crystal waters of the murmuring fountains of the park. When quiet was restored he said:

Fellah citizens: I'se the most grateful African of human ascent alive this minit. To receive the 'conlums of loud praise after a great defeat am more than I could 'ticipate. I am beaten, so was George Washington, so was General Lee, so was General Sweitzer. Its no good sign though that I have retreated. I am still heah. Der yer see me? Is my gray head any grayer? No. Is my voice any weaker? No. [Loud cries, No, No.] Fraud never was triumphant. If Ben Morgan was heah to-night, he would frow down de sponge an' I would go for it. [Sensation.] Now to de pint. When my friends counted my strength on day of 'lection, befo' de votes came in, I was 5,000 an' a half ahead. Whar did that vote go to, hey? To Morgan? No. To Gross? No. To Sweitzer? No. I'll tell you'ns whar it went. Into de little boxes that warn't counted. I was frauded. Dar was no justice shown to me 'cause I was do odd amendment to de great constitution of de country whose life I barred my buzzum to save in Libby prison and elswhar! (Tremendous applause and cries of "That's so.") I ain't a sore-head, as dey call de chaps who complain because fraud has cheated dem out of office. I am open and shut. Shut dis time. I am no disinfected agent, goin' 'bout to create disevils in de party of progress. No, sar! (Applause.) I 'cept de situation. I lift my cap. I bow my head to fate, and am still willin' to keep myself in de field as a people's candidate. (Cheers.) I want all your votes. I will pledge myself to open all your taverns on Sundays until nine o'clock, so you will have beer enough aboard to keep up steam all day. The temperance cause has a friend and advocate in me, but the saloon keepers may keep open doors in the back way, if they do not let pious people know it. I'll discharge every policeman on de force and send Bob Hague to de workhouse, I will, suah! But I see de situation and must not 'spress myself too freely, I conclude by saying that I'se honored by de 'casion. Dis beautiful park would be much beautifuller if it was bigger. It is a pride to de city and a joy to de honest man. I bid you good night.

The aged speaker closed amid deafening applause and retired, while the band played the rogue's march in most beautiful style. We publish this much because we think the people should be made aware of the doctor's determination to take the field against Morgan and Blackmore for Mayor as an independent candidate.

ANOTHER OIL FIRE.

Destruction of the Receiving House of Hutchison's Oil and Refining Co.—The Probable Loss.

About half past six o'clock last evening, a general alarm of fire was sounded from Box 3, Allegheny, the occasion of which was the discovery that a portion of the works of Hutchison's Oil and Refining Company, located in the Sixth ward, Allegheny, and occupying the entire square bounded by Preble street, Ohio avenue, Washington avenue and the Ohio river, was in flames. The fire was confined to the receiving house and originated from the gas, which, owing to the dampness of the atmosphere, did not rise as in fair weather, communicating with a lighted lamp. The building is lighted from the outside by placing lamps upon the window sills. This had just been done by the watchman, when the gas escaping from the window communicated with the lamp causing an explosion. The iron roof of the building was blown off, the windows broken and the building set on fire. An alarm was immediately struck as stated and the Fire Department were on hand with their usual promptness, and rendered most efficient service by their determined efforts to prevent the spread of the flames. So successful were they in this, that notwithstanding the fact that tanks filled with oil and various other inflammable fixtures were within a few feet of the burning building, the conflagration was confined to the receiving house entirely. The proprietors of the works were fortunately the possessors of a newly invented nozzle designed to be attached to hose in cases of fire, which was found to be a valuable auxiliary to the exertions made to check the spread of the flames. This nozzle is so constructed as to turn the water upon the burning building in a shower instead of a stream. The receiving house was completely destroyed together with its contents consisting of four agitators, a blast engine, and a steam pump and a small quantity of oil. The estimated loss is about $6,000 on which there is no insurance.

In this connection we deem it highly proper to call attention to the pressing want of a central fire alarm bell in Allegheny. Last evening the entire Department, in response to the general alarm sounded, were in attendance at this fire in one of the lower districts of the city. If during that time a fire had occurred in one of the upper wards, no amount of striking the boxes would have brought any of the department to the scene and in consequence a most destructive conflagration would have occurred.

SINGULAR DEATH.

A Lady Dies From Swallowing a Nail.

Yesterday morning Mrs Mary Ann Marshall, a widow lady residing at No. 30 Isabella street, Allegheny, came to her death from in a very singular manner. About a week ago while eating a biscuit at supper, she swallowed something which had been imbedded in the food, whether a nail or a piece of glass cannot be told. At the time, she experienced an acute pain, as though the foreign substance was cutting its way down, but in a few moments it was all over. The next day she complained of a slight soreness in her throat which seemed to extend down into the breast. No attention was paid to the matter, however, and it was not until a couple of days had passed and the soreness had increased so as to be uncomfortable, that she called the attention of Dr. Cooper, the family physician to the singular circumstance. Notwithstanding medical attention, she grew worse and about Thursday, her throat and upper part of the chest were much swollen. Dr. L. H. Williard was then also called in, but despite every exertion of the medical gentlemen, the patient became worse, and the inflamation increased until yesterday morning, when death resulted. A peculiar circumstance in connection with the case, was the fact that the lady throughout suffered comparatively but little pain, yet medicine seemed not in the least to check the inflammation which resulted fatally. It is not known what the foreign substance swallowed, was, but the friends think it must have been a small nail—though how it could get into the food, is the mystery. No post mortem examination has been made, however, and this is but conjecture.

The deceased was the relict of the late Samuel L. Marshall, who a few years ago was widely known in mercantile circles as one of our most enterprising business men. She was a member of the Smithfield street M. E. Church for many years, and there, as well as in all the social relations of life was universally esteemed. Her death has brought great mourning into the hearts of four children who have the genuine sympathies of the many friends who regard with unfeigned sorrow the sad event which has caused their orphanage.

ALLEGED ROBBERY.

A Hospital Chambermaid Charged with Stealing Money and Jewelry from a "Ladies Boarding House."

There was a hearing before Alderman Strain last evening in the case of the Commonwealth vs. Sarah Gallaher, who is charged on oath of Annie Miller with the larceny of a quantity of jewelry and a sum of money. The testimony disclosed the following facts: The prosecutrix keeps an establishment at No. 8 Third avenue, which she denominates "a ladies boarding house." On the evening of the fourth inst., the accused visited the house in company with a young man, and Miss Miller being absent, one of the inmates of the house, Miss Lynn, conducted the accused and her male companion to the apartment usually occupied by Annie Miller. In a wardrobe in this room Miss Miller left her jewelry and a pocket book containing about sixty dollars. The accused remained in the room a short time, and left before the return of the prosecutrix. Annie Miller, upon her return, missed the articles alleged to have been stolen, and upon learning the facts already related she concluded that Miss Gallaher had committed the theft. She therefore instituted legal proceedings.

A Mrs. Pravis, one of the "boarders," testified at the hearing that she knew the accused; became acquainted with her while sick at the Homeopathic Hospital, the accused being employed as chambermaid at that institution.

Mrs. Lynn, another "boarder," swore that Sarah Gallaher came to Annie Miller's house on the night of the alleged robbery in company with a young man wearing light clothing. Witness put them in Miss Miller's room; Miss Miller kept her money and jewelry in the wardrobe; she was absent at the time, but soon after she came home she discovered that a robbery had been committed.

No witnesses were called on the part of the defence, and bail was entered for the appearance of Miss Gallaher at Court.

Mr. Moreland and District Attorney Pearson appeared for the Commonwealth, and Messrs. Reed and Johnson for the defence.

We may state that the house of Miss Miller does not bear a very good reputation, and it is claimed by the defence that the case is a "put up" one.

NARROW ESCAPE.

A Crazy Man Crushed and Lacerated.

A man named Langfitt, who, with his wife, has been rusticating for some time at Oil City, but resides at Fairview, W. Va., took sick at the former place, some time since, and became deranged. On Monday night, accompanied by his wife and father, he started for his home, himself and wife occupying a berth in a Pullman sleeping car. Sometime during the night he arose and attempted to get out one of the windows of the car. Before his wife could prevent him, he succeeded in getting his head and upper portion of his body out of the window, going out backward. Mrs. Langfitt caught him by the legs and held him as best she could, and at the same time calling loudly for assistance. Almost fifteen minutes elapsed before the woman could make herself heard, all of which time she held to her husband with almost superhuman strength, while he now and then would raise himself up, catching the top of the car with his hands, and then falling, head downwards, until his head and shoulders dangled almost against the wheels of the car. When the train was stopped and the man drawn in, it was found that he had been struck in passing a bridge and his left arm and side terribly crushed and lacerated. His wounds were dressed by his relative. Dr. Langfitt of Allegheny, to whose house he was conveyed. Yesterday he was taken to his home.

POLITICAL.

The County Republican Committee—Regular Meeting—Matters of Importance.

A regular meeting of the County Republican Committee was held yesterday afternoon at the Lincoln Club Rooms, H. W. Oliver, Jr., in the chair. After the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting, reports from the various standing committees were called for.

Mr. Long, from the Vigilance Committee, stated that there had been but a very slim attendance at the various meetings of the committee, and those who find fault with the election district Vigilance Committees appointed, had only themselves to blame. But a few persons aided in the arranging of the committees and they had done the best they could under the circumstances. No names had been omitted intentionally and any additions thought proper in the different districts would be made with pleasure.

On motion the committee was instructed to publish such additional names from the different districts as would aid the cause.

Dr. Gilmore, from the Committee on Vigilance, reported progress.

On motion of Mr. Case it was decided to appoint a special committee to attend to the putting up and distributing of the tickets. The committee will be announced at the next regular meeting.

Mr. Fetterman, from the Committee on Meetings and Speakers, reported arrangements already in progress which would be duly announced.

Mr. Case, from the Committee on Documents, reported that the instructions to Vigilance Committees would be distributed immediately.

Mr. Christy, from the Committee on Naturalization, reported progress.

On motion of Mr. Bigelow, the members from the different districts were instructed to see that the Vigilance Committees go to work at once, have a canvas made and see that all Republican voters are registered. It was also decided to have instructions printed and distributed.

It was reported that the opposition were preparing for special efforts in the second (city) Legislative district to defeat Mr. Edwards, and colonization would be attempted. Steps are to be taken to prevent this, and Republicans in both the city districts are cautioned to be particularly careful.

Mr. Neeld, from the Committee on Reistration, and Mr. Bigelow, from the Finance Committee, reported progress.

THE SECOND SALE OF LOTS.

Another Great Day at Homestead—Unparalleled Demand for the Lots—What They Brought.

Notwithstanding the unpromising weather, which doubtless deterred many from attending, there were from five to six hundred persons present yesterday at the second sale of lots at Homestead, and best of all for the success of the affair, every one seemed to mean business, as will be sufficiently indicated when we state that the tremendous results of Saturday, when one hundred and twenty-two lots were sold for $87,000, were completely eclipsed by the astounding figures of two hundred and eleven more lots for $208,495, making a total of three hundred and thirty-three lots sold in the two days for over $295,000.

This "Homestead" enterprise is beginning to assume the character of a financial and social phenomenon that has more in it than a mere sale of lots. The usual phraseology of commendation is scarcely applicable to the wonderful results that have been attained. The facts are indeed, such as to warrant the attention of everyone and set people thinking. On Saturday next the third and last sale will take place when every remaining lot will be sold.

The number of lots already sold and the character of the purchasers, make it sure that next spring will find "Homestead" filled with a choice community. Those who have so far hesitated to invest for fear of getting into a "sickly" settlement that may be five or six years coming to anything, may now safely dismiss their doubts and "go in" with confidence. Saturday will be the last chance.

The surprising eagerness with which the public have invested in Homestead property is of itself a sufficient indication that they fully understand and appreciate the value of the advantages it possesses. Before next year the P. V. & C. R. R. will be in successful operation, and all necessary facilities will be thus offered for getting out from, and into the city. At Homestead pure air and fine views, unrestricted by unsightly walls of brick and mortar, will be luxuries to the wives and families of hard working citizens, such as they do not now enjoy. From all present appearances, Homestead promises to be the "model" suburb of our suburbs.

MUCH IN LITTLE.

A Series of Cases Before Alderman Taylor

Alderman Taylor has before him a case, or rather a series of cases of a most complicated character. From the various informations that have grown out of them we get the following circumstances: Some time during yesterday forenoon James Devinney and Edward Crewson, both of whom are minors, visited a saloon on Liberty street, of which John Kestler is proprietor and Louis Blum barkeeper. The boys upon entering called for a couple glasses of beer, and also a plate of soup apiece, it being what is termed a free lunch saloon. They paid for their beer when they had finished it and ordered another round, including the perquisites—in other words, more soup. It is alleged by Kestler and Blum that they drank the beer and then attempted to leave the saloon without paying. At all events they were followed by the barkeeper and afterwards by the proprietor, and blows were exchanged, a regular battle ensuing, in which it would seem, the boys got the disadvantage of the others. The affair terminated by no less than seven informations being lodged at Alderman Taylor's office, as follows:

Devinney vs. Kestler, assault and battery.
Devinney vs. Blum, assault and battery.
Devinney vs. Kestler, selling liquor to minors.
Crewson vs. Blum, assault and battery.
Crewson vs. Kestler, selling liquor to minors.
Blum vs. Devinney, assault and battery.
Blum vs. Crewson, assault and battery.

A partial hearing was had in the several cases and the parties all held for a further hearing.

BREVITIES.

STREETS crowded last night.

MANUFACTORIES are nearly all in operation.

ALLEGHENY Councils meet to-morrow evening.

SHALL Allegheny have a central fire alarm bell?

THE New Opera House held its largest audience last night.

THE cupola of the new City Hall is receiving a coat of white paint.

AT THE meeting of the East Birmingham Council last night, there were present three Councilmen and six reporters.

THREE groceries doing business next door to each other, on Wylie street, were shut yesterday by the Board of Health. One contained six cases of small pox.

ALDERMAN LOGAN'S manner of doing business in his line must give satisfaction, as it is on the increase. That new sign attracts almost universal attention.

COMPETION in the oyster trade has become so lively in New Castle that stews are rated at ten and fifteen cents each. We wish some one would get the idea here.

YESTERDAY in the Court of Common Pleas an order was made authorizing James M. Campbell, Trustee, to sell the personal property of his mother, (now at Dixmont) and appropriate $300 annually of the funds to her maintenance.

SOME TIME during Monday night, a grocery store on Ohio avenue, Allegheny, was entered by burglars and about $100 taken from the till. There is no clue to the thieves. We did not learn the name of the party suffering the loss.

MANAGER C. D. HESS arrived in the city last evening and is stopping at the Central. His celebrated comic opera troupe commence a six nights engagement at the New Opera House Monday night. They say they are immense.

THE REPORTS of the city physicians show that the deaths from small-pox during the past week were 22, or more than double the number in the previous week. Did the opening of the city schools have anything to do with it?

THE practice of "checking tickets" at the Allegheny station of the Pittsburgh Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad before the passengers enter the car has been abolished. It led to several suits and that caused its abandonment.

A GOOD strike was made yesterday in the Foster region. The "Mary Ann" well was struck and proves to be a three hundred barrel well. The tract is owned by Mr. H. Blackstone, of the Allegheny Valley Railroad, whose royalty will net him, so long as the well lasts, over three hundred dollars per diem. If fortune is fair, we imagine it has fallen in excellent hands this time, for nobody deserves a fortune better than Mr. Blackstone.

A SMALL-POX incident is related by a lady resident in the Seventh ward. Yesterday, upon going to her grocer's on Fifth avenue, and calling for some articles, she observed the hands of the clerk who waited upon her were encased in white gloves. A sight so unusual caused the lady to more closely observe the man, and looking him in the face, she discovered abundant scabby evidence that the grocer was a small-pox patient. She fled in terror, and henceforth will buy her groceries elsewhere.

A NEW time table will shortly go into effect upon the Pittsburgh, Washington and Baltimore Railroad, and among other changes will be the addition of a through night express train, attached to which will be Pullman Palace Sleeping cars, leaving here about eight o'clock P. M. The present Baltimore express, leaving Pittsburgh at 6:10 A. M., will be changed to 3 P. M. There will also be some changes in the running of the local passenger trains. The double track to Hazlewood will be completed before the new schedule goes into effect.

James Lane, of Manchester, was arrested by a Sheriff's officer, and lodged in jail on an attachment issued from the Court of Common Pleas on Saturday. His side of the story will be developed in Court.

This well-known and justly favorite butcher desires us to notify the public that his stands are, and will continue, to be found only as heretofore at No. 78 in the Diamond market, Pittsburgh, and No. 39 in the Allegheny market; for these two stands, and only for these, he slaughters every other day, and for these his steady customers well know he provides the best fatted and best prepared meats to be found in the country. At these stands there will be found at no time any but sweet and sound fresh-killed beef or mutton, or lamb or veal. He challenges comparison of his meats with any to be found in the celebrated Philadelphia or London shambles. Customers who have sought him in the new Fifth avenue market are apprised that he is only to be found at the two stands above named, the reputation of which is very high, and he devotes all his experience and energy to keep it so, to retain his many customers and to multiply them more and more. Remember, his stands are No. 78 Old Pittsburgh and No. 39 Allegheny markets.

Labor Exchange for the Current Week, September, 1871—Reported by C. A. Burrows, No. 104 Fifth Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa.

September is the month for fairs and out-door exhibitions—field trials of farming implements — consequently the agricultural works are generally stopped making repairs, and getting things in order for next season's work.

It really seems that the "iron age" is waning and youthful "steel" is the demand of the day for the manifold purposes of machinery. The new steel works in operation, construction and projection indicate a demand for steel workers, a good opening for sober, steady mechanics of all nationalities. The monster works of Germany and England will soon have to cope with the diversified skill of America.

The demand for "hands" in the rolling departments continues partially neutralized in this locality by the late disaster at Wheeling—the burning of the "Top Mill"—by which three hundred workmen were thrown upon the labor market. Many have naturally come to Pittsburgh and obtained situations.

The painters' out-door work is diminishing, and jours are looking round for winter work. But the lead and paint works continue in full operation, with new ones approaching completion.

The new rolling mills of both East and West draw on the "Iron City" for skilled workmen. The promoted bosses go first and picked crews follow in due order.

The rain of the past twenty-four hours may be the beginning of the fall rains, which would be hailed with wild delight by rivermen and interests dependent on the river trades.

The Duquesne Wagon Works

of Messrs. C. COLEMAN & SON, on Marion avenue, Allegheny, is turning out some of the best and best-finished work to be found in any American shop, East or West, including farm, Southern and Platform Spring Wagons, and as a specialty, the Combined Patent Self-Oiling Iron Axle Thimble Skein Wagon, surpassing all others in strength, durability, lightness of draught and cheapness; also, all descriptions of Wagons, Carts, Wheelbarrows, etc. Only the best materials used, and only the best workmen employed. Prices 15 to 25 per cent. lower than the East. All work warranted.

"The Port Perry Disaster."

MESSRS EDITORS—Let me say a word in reply to Captain Houghton. I think the statement that the gate was nailed up with ten penny nails is ridiculously absurd, when the fact is considered that a child five years of age and weighing not more than forty pounds, could break it down by leaning against it. Furthermore, I am told that an examination of the gate has shown that it was fastened by but one nail and that of small size.

Captain Houghton says the gate was in this condition in March. If that be so, it reflects no credit on the officers, who would allow such a dangerous man-trap in connection with their boat. Better a thousand times that there had been no gate there at all.

The captain says he was not notified of the time of the inquest. He could easily have known if he had been anxious. When the body of the child was found, it was taken to McKeesport, and the captain with Mr. John C. Risher, asked 'Squire Berry to hold the inquest. He could not do so without being notified by the coroner. He proposed to telegraph for instructions, but Captain Houghton said he was going on the train to the city and would have the coroner notified. He went to the city and came back again without doing so, and when asked about it said he "hadn't time." That's the history of the case. If the captain is not satisfied with the verdict of the coroner's jury he may yet have an opportunity to face the verdict in a higher court.

MIFFLIN.

THE Corry Blade has the following: "A conductor on the Oil Creek Road, one of those gentlemanly fellows, you know, who are so bashful (we don't give his name), was collecting fares of his passengers. An old lady sitting near the door seemed to be busy searching for something she had dropped on the floor. As the conductor approached her, she raised her head and said: "I allus, when I travels, carry my money in my stocking, so nobody can get it, and I'd thank you, young man, to reach it for me. I'm so jammed I can't get at it." The blushing conductor glanced over the passengers, now roaring, when meeting the eyes of a party of ladies, he beat a hasty retreat, muttering something about not charging old ladies any fare. His cash was short so much that trip. We [illegible] think that was Ed. Stevens, but it might have been."

No. 10 SIXTH STREET.

Having purchased the business stand, &c., lately occupied by Joseph C. McPherson, at No. 10 Sixth street, we desire to call the attention of Mr. McPherson's patrons and the public generally to the fact that the business will be carried on as heretofore. Mr. C. A. MUHLANBRING, the experienced and Popular Cutter, has kindly consented to remain with me, and will be happy to see his old friends at the old place. Our stock in trade has been largely increased by a new supply of seasonable and fashionable goods, and we have no doubt that we shall be able to please all who favor us with a call.
